

Dear Ethan,

On behalf of AM LLC, I want to thank you for all your team has done to help our company. We sincerely appreciate the Verasolve team's strategic guidance of our marketing, branding and public relations.

We initially brought Verasolve on to facilitate a full rebrand of our company. Your team led the entire process from conducting a branding workshop with our team, to completing extensive research, to developing a new name, logo, colors and website. Thanks to Verasolve, we were able to present a strong brand to current and potential customers, partners and employees.

After the Verasolve team revamped our brand identity by updating all of our marketing materials, they developed and implemented a strategy to increase brand awareness through multiple channels. They started our social media presence, which helped get our story out to our target audience. The team also started doing public relations initiatives, which allowed us to push out company news to local and industry publications.

Most importantly, the team researched and applied to multiple awards, which we were able to win more than a dozen of. These awards increased our brand awareness and showcased our capabilities in the federal market.

Throughout our engagement, the Verasolve team was great to work with. They were always professional, flexible and responsive and had the ability to complete projects efficiently and effectively. We happily recommend Verasolve to any company looking to expand and enhance its marketing and public relations initiatives.

Sincerely,
Dan Gabriel
