To the Verasolve team,

I wanted to express my sincere appreciation for the excellent work and outstanding results that the team at Verasolve has delivered for UberOffices. We initially selected your firm because of your unique Virtual VP of Marketing and Public Relations model. Now that we have had the opportunity to see how this model fits into our internal culture, we are even more impressed. Over the past year, your team has worked closely with our staff and executives to expand and improve our marketing, public relations, social media and internal communications initiatives as well as expand our brand awareness, establishing us as industry leaders.

Verasolve's media outreach campaign resulted in interview opportunities and a number of local and national articles in key publications for our industry. Additionally, Verasolve has helped significantly streamline and optimize our internal communication methods with newsletter templates, branding guidelines and social media strategy.

The commercial real estate market is very competitive and Verasolve was invaluable in their strategic efforts to improve and utilize the positioning of our capabilities and distinctively differentiate us from our local and national competitors.

Verasolve has been an indispensable part of our operations and I highly recommend them. We are looking forward to continuing our ongoing partnership with the team as we grow and thrive in the national market.

Sincerely,

Raymond Rahbar
